EDITORIAL :

“The Cornerstone of Success - Discipline”,

The bedrock of any successful endeavour, is particularly vital in a learning environment. It's not merely about following rules; it's about cultivating self-control, respect, and a strong work ethic. Our school is committed to fostering a disciplined atmosphere that empowers students to reach their full potential. By instilling discipline, we equip our students with the tools they need to succeed both academically and personally. Discipline isn't about punishment; it's about guidance. It's about helping students understand the importance of punctuality, attentiveness, and respect for others. By encouraging self-discipline, we empower students to take ownership of their learning and make responsible choices. Let's work together to create a disciplined and harmonious school environment where every student can thrive. Remember, discipline is not just a rule; it's a pathway to a brighter future.

माता - पिता

माता पिता भगवन सामान।
रखते सदा बच्चों का ध्यान।।

स्वयं कष्ट को सहते है।
फिर भी हमको खुश रखते है।।

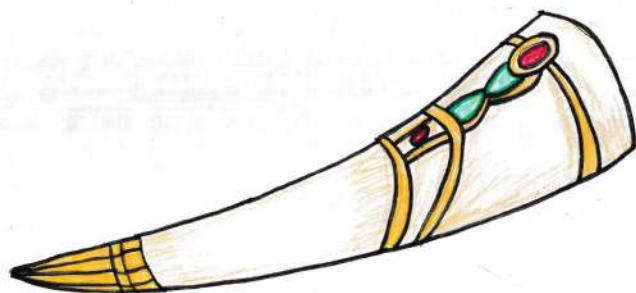

पढ़ लिखकर हम बने महान।
माता पिता की बढ़ाएं शान।।

बिना विद्या नर पशु सामान।
सभी पढ़ाएं अपनी संतान।।

देश बनेगा तमी महान।
जय भारत जय हिन्दुस्तान।।

THE TUSK OF GANESHA

A popular story about Ganesha's birth begins with the goddess Parvati, who is lonely and longing for affection. Thus, she creates a son from clay and ghee and gives him life while her partner Shiva is meditating on Mount Kailash. One day, Parvati goes to bath, asking her son to stand and guard. While she bathes Shiva returns and was prevented to enter by the young son. Shiva was persistent to meet. On refusal by Ganesha he got Angry and he cut off his head and went to Parvati. Soon realizing what he has done, Shiva searched for the first being and he could find an elephant and placed that head on the boy, naming him "Ganesha" or "Lord of elephant". I Grew up thinking that Ganesha broke off his own tusk to take dictation from Veda Vyasa. The story goes that Vyasa wanted to dictate an epic poem, the Mahabharata. He needed someone to write it. Nobody capable was found to exist on Earth, so he approached Ganesha or Vighna Vinakya Since Vyasa was clever so he composed a long and complicated epic like the Mahabharata and he made a counter condition that Ganesha had to understand every word before he wrote it down. Ganesha agreed and He broke off his own tusk to write and they began the task. And there is another story about the tusk of lord Ganesha that the tusk was broken during a confrontation between Lord Ganesha and Parashurama, the sixth avatar of Vishnu.

"The End Of An Era"

A visionary Leader, Ratan Tata was born on December 28, 1937, in Bombay India into the Tata family - one of India's most iconic business families. He was raised by his grandmother after his parents separated when he was just 10 years old. He earned a degree in architecture and structural engineering from university.

In the 1970 Tata was given managerial position in the Tata group. During 21 years Tata group revenue grew over 40 times and profit over 50 times. When Ratan Tata took over the company sales overwhelmingly comprised commodity sales, but later the majority of sales come from brands. In 2008 Tata gifted Cornell 50 million becoming the largest international donor in university's history.

A great person who died late evening on October 9 in Mumbai was none other than Ratan Tata.
